DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is response to communication filed on Oct. 31, 2005.
2. Applicant elects group I (claims 1-14) with traverse.
3. Claims 15-19 have been canceled.

Election/Restrictions

4. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method of maintaining neighbor list, classified in class 455, subclass 437-439.
 - II. Claims 15-17, drawn to a radio communication system, classified in class 455, subclass 403.
 - III. Claim 18, drawn to a base station controller, classified in class 455, subclass 456.5.
 - IV. Claim 19, drawn to a program control, classified in class 455, subclass 418.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, II, and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable.

In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as method of maintaining neighbor list, invention II has separate utility such as a radio communication system, invention III has separate utility such as a base station controller, invention I has separate utility such as a program control. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper and This statement is FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Horwath et al. (6,917,809).

Regarding claims 1, 6, and 8, Horwath discloses a method for automatically sorting the neighbor list of a cell in a communication system, comprising: maintaining a separate neighbor list for each of a plurality of cells, said neighbor lists indicating neighbor cells and corresponding control channels (see fig.9 and its description); maintaining a central link-list database identifying, for each of said plurality of cells, neighbor cells and corresponding control channels (see figs.2a-b, steps 202-206 and its description); receiving a neighbor modification command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304 and its description); automatically identifying which of said neighbor lists should be modified as affected neighbor lists based on said central link-list database in response to said command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304 col.3-4, and its description); automatically modifying a plurality of said affected neighbor lists in response to said command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304 col.3-4, and its description); and modifying said central link-list database in response to said command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304 col.3-5, and its description).

Regarding claims 2-3, 4-5, Horwath further discloses automatically modifying a plurality of said affected neighbor lists in response to said command comprises automatically deleting at least one control channel from each said affected neighbor list (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304, col.7, lines 37-53 and its description).

Regarding claims 9-11, 12-14, Horwath discloses a method for automatically sorting the neighbor list of a cell in a communication system, comprising: receiving a delete neighbor command identifying a first cell (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304, col.7, lines 37-53 and its description); automatically identifying a plurality of neighbor lists that should be modified in response to said command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304 col.3-4, and its description); and automatically deleting at least a neighbor relation to said first cell and at least one control channel identifier from a plurality of said identified neighbor lists in response to said command (see figs.2a-b, steps 210, fig.3, elements 302, 304, col.3-5, col.7, lines 37-53 and its description).
